

CHICK-FIL-A DAY AT MUST

In July, Chick-fil-A and MUST ministries teamed up for what proved to be a very special day. 5900 lunches were distributed throughout six north-metro counties. With the number of lunches provided and the number of CFA stores involved, this was an enormous undertaking - all went well.

Chick-fil-A Owner/Operators from Cobb, Gwinnett, Douglas, Paulding, Cherokee, and Bartow counties participated in the MUST summer lunch program that day. The program is designed to feed thousands of local children each day throughout the summer who normally eat free and reduced cost lunches at school. During the summer, these children are at home with little or no food. It was a collaborative effort between local Chick-fil-A operators and MUST ministry. The kids had no idea That Chick-fil-A was going to be served that day.

For Chick-fil-A Day, instead of sack lunches, the children received a packed Chick-fil-A lunch consisting of a hot Chick-fil-A sandwich, a bag of chips, a cookie, and a juice box. The CFA teams in North Cobb reached a total of 1,330 children and surprised the children not only with a Chick-fil-A meal, but also with a interactive time to play and pose for pictures with the Chick-fil-A cows. North Cobb CFA teams brought along Spanish speaking staff to help with the children who don't speak English.

What turned out to be a day honoring the kids, actually turned to be a bigger blessing to everyone who participated from Chick-fil-A.. Pictured above Andy Duncan with staff members from his Brookstone and Acworth stores.
